Mr. Eberle,

Typically, if EPA has approved a method of testing then this Agency complies with those approvals. We do not approve programs for Method 9 testing and we do not promote or have a list of approved providers. It is up to each company to decide which program they use to certify their personnel. Utilizing your program would depend on the cost and if we found it to be cost effective for our Agency. Until the cost is analyzed a decision could not be made to determine if it is something that we could and would want to utilize. Currently we pay a small fee to get certified and it is done locally and we incur very little cost. If you want to forward information on the cost of the program then I can further evaluate if it is something that would be beneficial for our inspectors.

Thank you,
